ORDER

According to the Standing Orders, whenever recruitment tests are conducted in Malayalam, option shall be given to all candidates to take the tests either in Tamil or in Kannada or in Hindi or English also. 2. Considering the representation that the syllabus prescribed for the Malayalam Language test may be simplified, Government as per the G.O. read as 2nd paper above, approved the following revised simplified syllabus for the test.

As of Trichur District and representatives of Kole Karshaka Sangham and concerned officials was held on 14-9-1982 to discuss the problems of Kole Cultivators. It was felt that there is increase in Electricity charges, pumping charges, wages etc., and hence the flat rate of Rs. 100 per acre fixed in G.O. Representations:—

AWARD

The dismissal of Shri K. Balakrishnan, Paid Secretary of the Mangalodayam Handloom Weavers (Production-cum-sales) Co-operative Society, is the question referred for adjudication by the Government of Kerala as per G. O. Rt. No. 421/81/ LBR dated 23rd March, 1981 for convenience sake. Shri Balakrishnan shall be referred to as the workman and the society as the management.

The case of the management is that by his negligence the workman has caused a loss of rupees 8,968 and 95 paise. The workman does not admit his liability to the above extent. His case is that the question regarding the quantum of liability is pending adjudication before the arbitrator and no action should be taken against him before the termination of the arbitration proceedings. A domestic enquiry was ordered. After conducting an enquiry, the Enquiry Officer submitted his report. The managing committee accepted the report of the Enquiry Officer and dismissed the workman. The arbitrator fixed the liability of the workman and directed the management to reinstate him on receipt of the amount found due. The management accepted the amount but did not implement the direction issued by the arbitrator. The workman has a further case that no enquiry was conducted by the Enquiry Officer and therefore the dismissal is liable to be set aside.

After examination of the Enquiry Officer I held that the domestic enquiry was properly conducted as per the preliminary order dated 5th November, 1982 which reads as follows:—

PRELIMINARY ORDER

This is an Industrial dispute, referred by the Government of Kerala as per G.O. (RT No. 421/81 LBR) dated 23rd March, 1981. The issue referred is the dismissal of Shri K. Balakrishnan Paid Secretary. Shri Balakrishnan who shall hereinafter be referred to as the workman, entered appearance and filed a statement raising the following contentions:—

He was kept under suspension with effect from 31st July, 1969. Mangalodayam Handloom Weavers (Production-cum-sales) Co-operative Society, hereinafter referred to as the Management field arbitration suit against the workman for realisation of Rupees 9,985.95 While that suit was pending the workman filed a petition before the President of the Management Society stating that the deficiency in stock occurred since he had entrusted textile goods, to members and others that he is willing to compensate the society and that he is prepared to pay Rupees 1,000 immediately and deposit the balance, in instalments and that his suspension should be cancelled. The arbitrator passed the award on 18th January, 1980, the workman got a copy of the award on 31st March, 1980. On 1st April, he offered the amount decreed by the arbitrator to the President of the Management Society who refused to accept the same. The matter was reported to the Deputy Registrar, who directed the President to accept the amount and issue receipt. Subsequently on 28th April, 1980 the President accepted the amount of Rupees 9,493.

The charge framed against the workman was that he had caused loss to the society to the extent of Rupees 8,968.95 and that he has not compensated the same. The explanation given by the worker was that the question regarding the extent of his liability is pending determination in arbitration suit number 15 of 1960 and it is unjust and illegal to take any disciplinary action against the workman before disposal of the arbitration suit.. The society had appointed one Madhavan Potty, Advocate to hold an enquiry. The enquiry officer was a Junior Advocate working under the Society's Advocate. The Enquiry Officer informed the workman that he is holding the enquiry in an unknown place far away from the society. The workman requested him to conduct the enquiry from the society itself. In fact no enquiry was conducted on 5th April, 1980, the management informed the workman that the Enquiry Officer has filed a report on 31st January, 1980 that the enquiry officer has found him guilty of the charge and that the committee has received to discharge him since they have accepted the findings of the Enquiry Officer. After payment of the amount of Rupees 9,463 the workman had prayed for reinstatement. The president did not even accept the registered notice sent by the workman. The workman wants himself to be reinstated.

The Management filed written statement raising the following contentions. The reference is bad in law since Shri. Balakrishnan was discharging managerial and administrative duties as paid Secretary of the society and he would not come within the term workman. In his capacity as Paid Secretary the workman was entrusted with textile goods belonging to the society and he was responsible to account for those goods. The annual stock verification conducted by the Senior Co-operative Inspector disclosed a deficiency of Rupees 8,968.95 When the dificiency was detected Shri. Balakrishnan tendered his resignation on 8th July, 1969. And the same was accepted by the society as per resolution number 9 dated 30th July, 1969. The committee reviewed its earlier decision and placed Shri. Balakrishnan under suspension. The memo of charges was issued on 15th March, 1977, and Shri. Balakrishnan submitted an explanation. Since the reply was not found to be satisfactory a domestic enquiry was held. The first sitting of the enquiry was fixed as 11th May, 1977. The workman failed to appear before the Enquiry Officer even though due notice was given to him. The enquiry was adjourned to 25th May and Shri Balakrishnan had acknowledged, receipt of the notice on 18th of May. On 25th May also Shri Balakrishnan did not appear. He did not send any communication to the Enquiry Officer. Since Shri Balakrishnan failed to appear the Enquiry Officer examined three witnesses in his absence. The Enquiry Officer filed the report finding the workman guilty of the charge. On the basis of the report the workman was dismissed as per Order dated 3rd April, 1980. The deficit in stock occurred due to the negligence of the workman and not because amounts were due to him from members and others. The enquiry officer was not a Junior Advocate working with the society's advocate.

Due information was given to the workman regarding the venue of enquiry. It is not far away from the society. The office of the Thittavalikara Kaithary Society, Balaramapuram was chosen as the venue of enquiry because this society's office was not having sufficient convenience. It is not true to say that no enquiry was conducted. The Arbitrator has no power to order re-instatement of the workman. Shri Balakrishnan was dismissed after holding a proper enquiry. In case the court finds that there was any procedural irregularity, the management may be afforded one more opportunity to prove their case. The workman filed a reply statement denying the allegations raised in the written statement filed by the management and raising the following contentions. The workman was not discharging managerial or administrative duties. His salary was only rupees 60. He was never informed about the acceptance of the resignation. He was informed only about the suspension. No domestic enquiry was conducted. If a report has been filed by the Enquiry Officer the same must have been created subsequently at the instance of the management's Advocate. The workman had requested the Enquiry Officer to hold the enquiry from the management Society or atleast from his own office. The Enquiry Officer had not given information to the workman regarding his decision with respect to the place of enquiry. The workman failed to appear at some unknown strange place only, because the workman had information that the President of the Society had arranged Goondas and Rowdeys to manhandle and assault the workman at Thittavalikara. There is no order dated 3-4-1980, dismissing the workman. The arbitrator appointed under section 196 of the Co-operative Societies Act was competent to decide disputes between the society and its employees. The charge against the workman was that he was responsible for the loss of rupees 8,968 and 95 paise to the society. This matter was under adjudication and as soon as the arbitrator passed orders, the workman had paid the amount. There is no rule prohibiting the employees of the Handloom Society from continuing in service after completion of 58 years of age.

The Enquiry Officer was examined as MW1 and the enquiry file was marked as Ext. M. 1.

The charge against the workman is that by his negligence, he had occassioned a deficiency in stock to the extent of roughly 9,000 rupees. The workman has no case that there was no deficiency in stock. His case is that he had entrusted the goods with members and others and therefore the deficiency was noticed. The management had initiated arbitration proceedings against the workman and the arbitrator had passed an award against him. The amount decreed by the arbitrator has been paid by the workman. The arbitrator has also directed that the workman should be reinstated. The society had not complied with that direction.

As a matter of fact there is not much scope for holding a domestic enquiry in this case. There is not much dispute regarding the fact of the case. The deficiency in stock is admitted. The question as to how it had occurred may not be of much relevance in fixing the guilt of the workman. Actually the society has not put forward a case, that the workman had in fact misappropriated the stocks. The management's case is that loss has been caused by negligence. The workman's case is that he had distributed the stock, among members and others without accounting for the same. Even if his case is true the workman cannot escape from responsibility for the deficiency in stock.

The workman had not participated in the domestic enquiry. He had requested the enquiry officer to change the place of enquiry. According to the management the enquiry was held from the Thittavalikkara Society since the premises of the management society were not spacious enough. The Enquiry Officer stated in cross-examination that there are no special reasons for not holding the enquiry from the premises of the management society. The workman has no case that he does not know the place from where the enquiry was conducted. The case pleaded by him in his reply statement is that he was afraid to go to the Thittavalikkara Society since the President of the Management Society had collected Gundas there. Nothing prevented the President from taking the "Gundas", to the premises of his own society. Therefore the reason mentioned in the reply statement for applying for a change of venue does not appear to be tenable. An attempt was made to show that the enquiry was conducted from an imaginary place and that the Enquiry Officer had not gone to the Thittavalikkara Society. In fact such a case has not been pleaded by the workman. The workman had received sufficient notice regarding the place and time of enquiry. But he did not think of appearing before the Enquiry Officer and requesting for time for cross-examination of witnesses etc. Having intentionally retrained from participating in the enquiry the workman cannot turn round and say that the enquiry was a fictitious one and that the report has been manipulated in order to suit the convenience of the management. I would therefore hold that the enquiry was properly conducted. Therefore the case is posted for considering the question regarding punishment to 17th November 1982.

The case was posted to 17th of November, for evidence and arguments regarding the quantum of punishment. The parties did not adduce any evidence. Arguments were heard. When the Co-operative Inspector verified the stock there was a deficiency to the extent of rupees 9,000. The management has no case that in fact the stock or the value of the stock was m sappropriated by the workman. Their case is that by his negligence the workman had caused a loss of about 9,000 rupees. The management has not disclosed the nature of negligence shown by the workman. According to the workman no loss has been caused to the society and the deficiency in stock occurred since he had distributed the stock among members and others. What ever it be the fact that there has been a deficiency in stock is admitted. The arbitration case ended in a decree against the workman. The arbitrator had also held that the workman should be re-instated on payment of the amount found due. The workman has paid the amount decreed by the arbitrator. The workman was kept under suspension from 13th July, 1969. The order of dismissal was passed on 5th April, 1980 and the dismissal took effect from the date of suspension. It is more than 13 years since the workman was suspended from service. The society had taken nearly 11 years for completing the disciplinary proceedings. The management has no case that the workman had misappropriated the stock. The workman has already remitted the amount due from him. Considering all the above circumstances I feel that a punishment of withholding of back wages would be sufficient to meet the ends of justice.

In the result, I pass an award directing re-instatement of C.K. Balakrishnan Paid Secretary of the Co-operative Society but without any claim for back wages.

Dictated to the Confidential Assistant, transcribed and typed out by her, corrected and signed by me the 24th day of November, 1982.

Presiding Officer.
